

SEMICONDUCTOR STRUCTURE WITH INTEGRATED SHIELDABSTRACT

- 5 A semiconductor structure comprises a memory element, which comprises a floating gate, a control electrode, which is capacitively coupled to the floating gate, wherein a signal for controlling the memory element is applicable to the control electrode, as well as a shield, which is arranged 10 isolated from the floating gate and covers it fully.